gains of 18 per cent, and 26 per cent, respectively. Total loans outstanding now amount to $3,159,308.27.

5. Reserves now amount to $252,792.22, or 32 per cent more than at the end of 1954.

Mr. Smith forecast an "unusually good" year for business in 1955, especially for the first six months. The economic expansion of 1955 would continue, he predicted, bolstered by a high level of plant and equipment expenditures, expanding inventories, a high rate of consumption spending, peak employment, and a high level of construction.

Further contributing to an optimistic business outlook, he said, were the facts that 1956 is an election year, and that tax reductions appear to be in the offing. As for housing, Mr. Smith reported that demand continues strong, being sustained by "an intense desire on the part of the public for up-to-date and larger homes, a rising rate of disposable personal income, and a continued high rate of family formation."

While housing starts may decline to around 1.2 million units in 1956, down from 1955's production of 1.3 million units he commented, the year would still be down as the country's third biggest home building year.

On Thursday of this week, a check for the amount of $300.07 was presented to the Bulloch County Health Department by the Statesboro Junior Woman's Club. This sum represents the club's sale of a child's playhouse which will go to a fund for the Prevention of Deafness among Bulloch county children, and will be administered by the county health department.

The Junior Woman's Club is proud of its success as sponsors of this new and needed aid for our local boys and girls. They are gratified also by the manner in which all club members cooperated in this, the main money-making campaign of the year. This spirit of cooperation was matched by that of the local merchants who donated much of the material which went into the construction of the playhouse and by the scores of Bulloch counties who felt the Prevention of Deafness Fund worthy of a donation.

Many may miss seeing the playhouse in its accustomed location on the southwest corner of the courthouse square. It now belongs to little Miss Julie Johnson, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson of North College street. Julie, who attends Mattie Lively Elementary School, was practically speechless when informed that she was holder of the ticket drawn by Mrs. Ralph Bacon, public health nurse.

The Junior Woman's Club award of a camellia to the member selling the most tickets on the playhouse went to Mrs. G. C. Coleman Jr., who secured over 250 donations toward the Prevention of Deafness Fund.

TC'S OFFICE DOES NOT
FILL OUT APPLICATION
FOR AUTO TAGS
John P. Lee, Bulloch county tax commissioner, announced this week that his office has "absolutely nothing to do with the filling out of the application blanks for auto tags, or for drivers' licenses. He explained that the State Patrol comes to the courthouse for renewal of drivers' licenses. Following them is a group which filled out applications for car tags."

Mr. Lee stated that Mr. Shearouse is in the halls of the courthouse and fills out applications for drivers' licenses for 25 cents and for auto tags for 50 cents. He stated that his office has nothing to do with the application. "We only issue the tags upon checking the application and making sure that the state and county tax is paid on it," he said.

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs has constantly worked for better health and education facilities, for national and state legislation beneficial to children and infirm persons, and for numerous others contributing to community betterment;

WHEREAS, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs unlimited opportunities for education, fellowship and community service to its members;

THEREFORE, I, W. A. Bowen, mayor of the city of Statesboro, do proclaim January 29 to February 4 as GEORGIA FEDERATION WEEK in recognition of the achievements of this great organization and its 308 local clubs, and to encourage membership of the women of our community in a federated woman's club.

Signed: W. A. BOWEN, Mayor.

Womans Club observes Georgia Federation Week

Mrs. R. S. Bondurant, president of the Statesboro Woman's Club this week announced that the local organization is joining in the state observance of Georgia Federation Week, January 29 to February 4. Mayor Bill Bowen has issued a proclamation for the special observance.

As part of the observance the Statesboro club reviews some of the accomplishments of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, in which the local club has participated.

Since the organization in October, 1896, the Georgia Federation has exerted a great influence upon the pattern of life in Georgia. The united effort of its 30,000 club women has made possible many of the benefits vital to the welfare of the people of Georgia.

The Georgia Federation ranks "first" in chartering the course of state legislation for the following:

Agriculture extension service, county demonstration agents, compulsory education, free text books, consolidated schools, daily Bible reading in schools, free tuition, establishment of the academy for the blind and the school for the deaf.

It has also steered to successful enactment laws governing child labor, child welfare, pure food and drugs, fire control, auto light law, State Patrol, elimination of grade crossings, and many others.

Mrs. Bondurant said, "The women of the Georgia Federation are proud of the accomplishments of the past, but not for a minute are we willing to stop on our laurels. Each day we are seeking ways and means to make the peace of the world more secure and lasting; to meet the problems of the youth of the state; to instill in the youth and adult the value of citizenship."

THE REV. W. D. JOHNSON TO PREACH AT CALVARY BAPTIST SUNDAY

The monthly meeting of the Statesboro High School 4-H Club was held in the music room Friday morning, January 19, with President Johnny Dekle, presiding over the business session.

Bonnie Dekle, secretary and treasurer, read the minutes of the November meeting. They were approved by the members present.

The meeting consisted of the 4-H Club community elimination contest. The 4-H girls who won first prizes in the various projects were Maxine Brunson, dress revue Jan Pugh, public speaking; Betty Jo Brannen,

During February these winners will compete with winners from the other 4-H Clubs of Bulloch county in the county elimination contest which is to be held in the Recreation Center.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield will be available to the Bulloch county Farm Bureau shortly. The members present voted to have a yard cleaning and "house securing" day Saturday, January 21, at 8 a. m. William Starling was to use a disc harrow around the building and the other members were to bring hoes, rakes and such like later to clean the yards. H. L. Hood Jr., reminded the tobacco, peanut and cotton growers that they could get their intended plantings pre-measured prior to February 15 if they would go by the ASC office and ask for it. Peanut and cotton allotments that are not to be planted should be returned to the office also, he stated.

R. P. Mikell says that farmers all over the United States are just about like the ones found here, if his some 10 visits to the American Farm Bureau Federation conventions could be used as a guide to judge these people by. They all, from every state and section, seem interested in improving the lot of the farmer and raise his standard of living. There are no farmers at these conventions that speak from the corner of their mouth, no isms of any kind shown.

C. P. Brunson, new president at Register, stated that one of the major projects he was interested in was to promote the visit to the national convention this fall so that the members would know first hand what the American Farm Bureau was like.

Frank Farr advised the Register Group Thursday night to procure their self-employment numbers immediately if they did not have one so that it could be used in making their returns.

Mr. Farr stated that these returns would have to be made by February 15 along with the income tax returns.

Mr. Farr reviewed the changes in the income tax program and the workings of the social security program for farmers. Farm people will appreciate the social security program when they get a few years protection behind them. It will mean as much to farmers as the present retirement programs mean to teachers and others, he pointed out.

Social security funds held back on wage hands on the farm should be reported this month, by January 31. This report is not a part of the income tax returns. Farmers that withheld tax from wage hands will also need an account number that should be applied for immediately if one has not been procured.

Share croppers as generally found here in the county may not be share croppers under the social security program but wage hands, Mr. Farr advised. Individual systems of handling this group of reports will have to be reviewed to determine this point.

The high-powered press agents of this administration have devoted three years to discrediting party after candidate Eisenhower solemnly promised 90 per cent of party during his 1952 campaign. Every farmer in America has suffered from the effects of this broken promise," Preston continued.

"My conferences with House and Senate leaders since Congress convened on the 3rd encourage me in the belief that the Senate will finish what the House began in the last session and that we will see a 90 per cent party bill passed by that body during the present session," The First District Congressman stated. "Meantime, we are working diligently to formulate a long-range farm program that will expand our markets and enable our American crops to compete in world trade. This, in turn, will stabilize farm income at a higher level, more in keeping with the nation's general prosperity."

To prevent wild onion flavor in milk, dairymen should either keep the milking herd off such areas at least four hours before milking.
